Environmental group halts work

La. DEQ holds up permit

BY ED LEPOMA

Concerns raised by a Louisiana environmentalist group are delaying permits needed to dredge a little-known waterway called "the lifeblood" to the shipping industry using Hancock County's Port Bienville Industrial Park.

The Louisiana Department of Environmental Quality is holding up a water quality permit need to dredge Little Lake Pass because of concerns raised mainly by the Louisiana Audubon Council. The groups wants to determine the amount of mercury contamination and other toxins in the project area.

Hancock County's Port and Harbor Commission had already signed a $32,500 contract with Compton Engineering of Bay St. Louis to perform initial tests needed before dredging a one-mile stretch of Little Lake that is silted in and sits at the bottom of the Pearl River Basin in St. Tammany Parish. The waterway is the main entry into the shipping channel at Port Bienville.

The requirement for testing for mercury contamination and other toxins is a requirement outlined in letters sent out earlier this month to Solutions, Inc., of Vicksburg, the Port Commission's environmental consultant. In that letter, from DEQ certifications coordinator Larry Wiespape, DEQ wants surface and lake bottom samples from the beginning, mid-point and terminus of the project area.

Wiespape pointed out that the DEQ requires that the samples

Save Our Children students taught art

BY ED LEPOMA

A capped "Captain Colorific" visited Bay St. Louis this week to the delight of students at the Save Our Children Center and others visiting from the Hope Haven Shelter.

Hampden Ipser of Fly by Night Productions, Birmingham, Ala., came to town to give the children free art supplies, show them an educational video, and get them interested in learning to draw. And, Melinda Gandy, a Biloxi artist with the Walter Anderson Museum in Ocean Springs, was on hand to give the third through sixth grade students personal instruction.

After the children were seated at tables with art supplies in hand, Ipser

Taylor: Protect Cat Island

BY ED LEPOMA

The U.S. House Subcommittee on National Parks and Public Lands this week will hold hearings on a bill introduced by U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor (D-Miss), to include Cat Island into the Gulf Islands National Seashore.

Taylor said the legislation would be "an important first-step in protecting this pristine island from commercial development."

The 5th District Congressman said the owners of the island are willing sellers but their offer is only for a limited time. Approximately 158 acres out of 2,100 acres would remain in private ownership.

"Cat Island would be the last of the Gulf Islands to be publicly protected under House Resolution 2541," said Taylor. He said including the island in the chain of the national seashore would protect 21 miles of coastal shoreline, including a six-mile stretch of undeveloped beach.

"Cat Island is a diverse habitat for a wealth of marine life and shorebirds and is one of the best surf fishing spots along the entire Gulf

N.O. murder suspect was in Hancock

BY ED LEPOMA

A Picayune man who was temporarily housed at the Hancock County jail is a suspect in the brutal murder of a prominent Slidell millionaire, who once owned a radio station in Bay St. Louis.

When William "Bill" Garrett died in a Slidell hospital Sept. 5, investigators first thought it was the result of a freak accident. The 77-year-old Garrett had been working on the underside of his riding lawnmower, which was propped up on wooden blocks. The lawn mower appeared to have fallen off the blocks, causing Garrett fatal head injuries.

Garrett turned a single automobile dealership in Slidell into a dynasty, and later specu-

Senate restores full funding for Stennis

BY ED LEPOMA

By a voice vote this week the U.S. Senate restored full funding for NASA and Stennis Space Center operations, and passed other appropriations that will benefit the entire Gulf Coast as part of the Defense Authorization Bill.

The VA/HUD/NASA Funding Bill restored $900 million that had been cut by the U.S. House of Representatives. It includes $1.5 billion provided for NASA's Commercial Remote Sensing Program, which is primarily being done at the Stennis space Center.

It also includes $110 million for the "Spaceliner 100" project, and Stennis will be the leader in developing this technology aimed at reducing the cost of space exploration.

The bill also provides an additional $1.1 billion for the Veterans Administration budget, which has not been increased in the last three years.

U.S. Sen. Trent Lott said he was especially pleased that the

Marshal issues burn ban

ECHO STAFF REPORT

Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate on Friday issued a burning ban in Hancock County effective immediately. The ban is in effect until further notice.

Pate said there have been several small fires throughout remote areas of the county due to excessively dry weather.

Pate said the burning ban does not apply to the cities of Waveland or Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Spoo will be sent from Bradford-O'Keefe Funeral Home, Gulfport, to the Redmond Memorial Chapel in Redmond, Oregon, for services. Burial will be in Redmond Memorial Cemetery.

Department of Archives will conduct archaeology dig

In celebration of Mississippi Archaeology Week, the Department of Archives and History will hold a demonstration archaeology dig on the Old Capitol Green Saturday, October 9, 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Children are invited to join in the digging, screening, and examination of artifacts. Archaeologists will demonstrate the process of mapping a site, recording an artifact, and interpreting the findings of the dig.

Museum tours focusing on archaeology will be given. The Saturday dig is free and open to the public.

On Thursday and Friday, October 7 and 8, demonstration digs will be held for school groups (grades 4 to 6).

There is no charge to school groups, but interested teachers must call ahead to register, (601) 359-6920. The archaeology digs will be held rain or shine.

During the week of October 9 to 16, other events will be held around the state in celebration of Mississippi Archaeology Week.

For information on these events call (601) 359-6940.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to all our friends and family who have so graciously given of their time, love, support and compassion during the tragic loss of our children, Cecile Bilbo and Sean Finegan, the two most precious parts of our lives, on August 14, 1999.

We thank you all so much for the beautiful flowers and cards we received, as well as the food you prepared, your donated time, and your continued support.

We wish to thank Brother Bill Farris for the lovely service he performed and his daughter, Cecilia, for her beautiful songs; also to the Finegan family and friends for their musical tribute they performed as well.

We also like to thank the Bay High School JROTC for the beautiful ceremony and flowers donated in memory of our children.

Thanks also go to Randy Tartavouille and his staff for their courtesy and compassion during this tragic time in our lives. For all the pallbearers who contributed their time, support and love, we thank you also.

We would like to thank the community and all the businesses and families who donated their time and effort to the benefit held in honor of our children. Thank you for your love and generosity. It will never be forgotten.

Thank you all who have sat with us, cried with us, held us, and were there by our side to help get us through. All of these things were very special to us and will always be remembered.

Thank you for all your prayers and support. We love you from the bottom of our hearts.

May God bless you all and keep you in his care.

Today is the day you left us to go away to the heavens above.

Even though life goes on, it hurts to know that you are not here to receive our love.

I think of you every day and night.

I wish that you could be here in my sight.

I know you are watching over us from above, because you are the guardian angel for so many of us.

Whenever I start to miss you I think and remember all the great times we shared together.

I will forever miss you, and so deeply love you.

Love and miss you always,

Voter registration deadline nears for primary election

Secretary of State Eric Clark reminds all prospective voters that, in most counties, Friday, October 1, is the last day to register to vote in the state general election on November 2.

"I encourage everyone to participate in this important election," Clark said. "In order to vote, make sure you are registered by 5 p.m. on October 1. Potential voters can register with their Circuit Clerks or by using a mail-in voter registration form."

Some Circuit Clerks' offices will be open until noon on the Saturday, October 2 prior to the voter registration deadline. In these counties, the deadline to register is Saturday at noon. Some Circuit Clerks' offices also will be open for extended hours during the week prior to registration deadline. We suggest you contact the local Circuit Clerk to make sure.

For help with any Mississippi elections question, please contact the Secretary of State's Office at 359-6357 or 800-829-6786, or the county Circuit Clerk.

'Clouds' to highlight library's story hour

"Clouds" is the theme for the children's story hour at the Bay St. Louis Hancock County Library on Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 10:30 a.m.

Clouds and other books will be read. Susan Daigre, program coordinator, will assist the children making cloud dioramas.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately one-half hour, depending upon subject matter and planned activity. The Kiln Library hosts a story hour every other Thursday.

Programs and activities are designed for preschool-age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or preschool group.

For individual branch story hour information contact Sandra Ladner, Kiln Library, 255-1724, or Adrienne Bradley, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, 467-5282.

WWII Memorial benefit set

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Wal-Mart, Waveland, along with the support for local Veterans Organizations, have committed to raising funds to be contributed to the completion of the WWII Memorial to be located in Washington, D.C.

To this end, Wal-Mart, Waveland, will sponsor a Craft Fair on Friday and Saturday, October 1 and 2.

Proceeds from space rentals will go towards the World War II Memorial.

Wal-Mart is a participant in the National World War II Memorial fund-raising campaign along with other supporters. The memorial will be funded almost entirely by private contributions, as specified in Public Law 103-32. The capital campaign goal is for donations of $100 million.

As of June, 1999, approximately $60 million has been raised through corporate and foundation giving, the support of veterans groups, associations, and individual donations.

Wal-Mart, Waveland's, associates are challenging other Hancock County businesses to join in the fund-raising effort. A way this can be done is by placing a jar on a business counter or by having some sort of a benefit.

For information on the Craft Fair, contact Judy, Angie or Kiremia at 467-4371 at Wal-Mart for details, or Kenny Wilkerson, 467-4837, Post 139 Commander Jim Long, 467-8005, home; 467-7100, club house.

There also has been an account set up for donations to WWII Memorial Fund at any Hancock Bank, account #011728567.

Numerous health support groups to meet in October

Numerous healthcare support groups will meet at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center facilities during the month of October. These free sessions are a community service of SMH. Among them are:

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The touch of Fall sure feels good after so many months of temperatures in the high 90s.

Everyone appears to be enjoying the cool mornings which are very much welcomed.

I am sure there will be some of us in a few months who will wish the hot weather was here, but most of us are enjoying the quick change.

There appears to be more activities of residents working in their yards and gardens making preparations for the winter season ahead.

In addition to the hot weather this year we have had a very low rainfall, so many flowers, shrubs, trees, etc. have died for a lack of moisture.

Watering shrubs and trees just does not do the job that Mother Nature does when it rains. I know we have lost several shrubs this year because of the drought.

Weather is something we can write and talk about, yet we can not do anything about.

This is just a reminder about the annual Our Lady Academy International Food Fest which will take place next weekend.

It will be the 17th for OLA and a lot of preparations have taken place for the big three-day fund raising event for the girls' school.

The Food Fest brings a variety of the world's foods to Bay St. Louis from such traditions as German, Oriental, Greek, Mexican, Italian, American, seafood, and mouth-watering desserts.

Activities begin at 5:30 p.m. on Friday, and 11 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Live entertainment will include the Coast Karaoke in Friday night; Diane Desporte Dancers and Rhythm Rockets Saturday afternoon and Dr. Rock & The Interns Saturday night. Sunday the ever popular Pat Murphy Band is scheduled from 1 to 5 p.m.

An OLA Food Fest would not be the same without the ever popular John "Chappy" Chapman, chef and owner of Chappy's Seafood Restaurant in Long Beach, and he will host a booth of his mouth-watering Cajun seafood specialties.

Just what Chappy will be serving will be revealed on the Food Fest weekend.

Once again OLA has rounded up some of the finest art and crafters from the local community and neighboring states.

Sounds like next weekend's Food Fest will once again be a big hit.

Talking about next weekend, several other events will be taking place too.

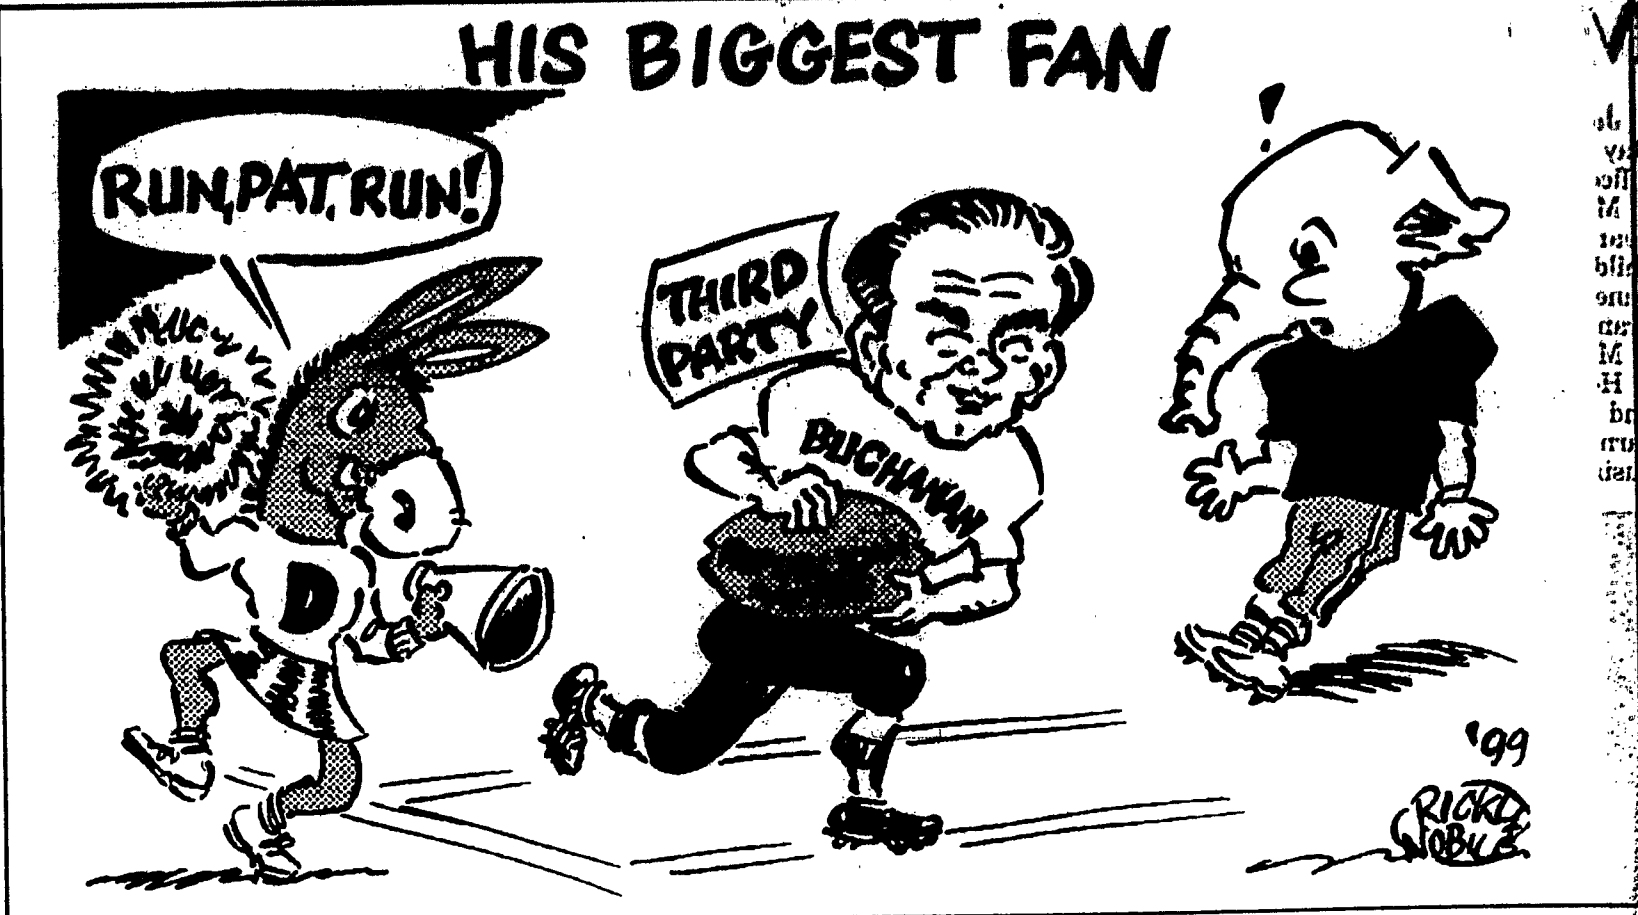

This will mark the annual Mississippi Department of Marine Resources "Celebrate the Gulf" Marine Education Festival on Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Pass Christian Harbor.

This will be a great time for young and old to learn a lot about coastal life and there will be hands-on exhibits.

Also in Pass Christian on Friday and Saturday will be "Collage" A festival of Art in the War Memorial Park. Friday's hours are from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Some 40 artists will display their fine arts, pottery, jewelry, ceramics, etc.

Sounds like next weekend will be a very busy one.

FROM THE SENATE

By State Senator Trent Lott

Founding fathers set a high standard of guiding principles

Our founding fathers believed that people of character should ultimately rise above political sparring and seek what is best for the American people, based on the common pursuit of liberty and justice. Often today these basic values are skewed because the current administration seems to have no guiding principles of its own.

President Clinton's granting of clemency to 16 convicted Puerto Rican terrorists reflects a widening value gap between this President and Congressional members on both sides of the aisle.

The U.S. Senate considers these men criminals, and its members -- liberal and conservative, Republican and Democrat -- voted 95-2 for condemning the President's action as "deplorable." We recognize that terrorists, no matter what their background, are killers.

They are no different than the terrorists on which our military recently conducted cruise missile attacks. They did not get blood on their hands, but like Al Capone, Charles Manson or John Gotti they did plot destruction and were sent to jail.

At sentencing, the judge said he wanted to condemn these terrorists to death, but law did not permit him. So he gave them the stiffest sentence available, essentially relegating them to life in prison for masterminding 130 terror bombings between 1973 and 1984. Once they were behind bars, the bombings ceased. The public was protected. The system was working -- until now.

President Clinton has overriden a wise judge and jury. These criminals, who apparently show no remorse, are free. Our nation wonders: Why?

And especially why now did the President free these prisoners. After all, out of 3,000 requests for clemency during this administration the President has only granted three, until this week.

In this one case, the President has mysteriously parted from the norm. Defenders say the terrorists were never convicted of killing, only sedition, that their sentences were too severe and that a pledge of good behavior should suffice. The Senate didn't buy that. Why should the American people?

Questions about the timing of this action are legitimate, especially as the First Lady seeks Puerto Rican support for her reported U.S. Senate bid.

This administration seems to be courting Puerto Rican sentiment. Earlier this year, the administration prodded Puerto Rico toward statehood with eyes probably on several million potential Puerto Rican voters who could support Clinton/Gore policies under proposed statehood status.

From my political standpoint as a U.S. Senator for Mississippi, I candidly told Mississippians that Puerto Rican statehood would have almost certainly cost Mississippi a U.S. House seat. Our voice would have been severely muffled. However, I believed that, politics notwithstanding, the ultimate decision was up to the Puerto Rican people.

Then, in a referendum, those citizens again expressed their content with their current status as a U.S. Commonwealth Territory. The administration backed away.

Still, the First Lady's aspirations to become a U.S. Senator would probably require the support of New York City's large Puerto Rican community.

After the decision was made to release the Puerto Rican terrorists, all eyes were on the First Lady, who supported her husband's decision. Then she suddenly changed her mind.

Millions of Americans rightly wonder if her action is a planned and measured ploy to gain maximum political favor from both sides, or a sincere value-based conviction. I hope it is the latter.

Another incident involving a U.S. Military firing range in Puerto Rico also raises questions, about the line between politics and policy.

Tragically, an ordinance mishap resulted in the death of a civilian.

Some Puerto Rican activists are using this as a rallying cry, claiming the U.S. Military has a history of animosity toward the Commonwealth.

The administration is now studying closure of the range, despite the military's insistence that the range is vital to training and readiness. Is this an effort to court a voting block? We all wonder.

The only question anyone should ask upon approaching these issues is: What is best for the American people? Right now, with continued misgivings about the administration's overall motives toward Puerto Rico, the U.S. Senate has concluded what is obvious to everyone but our President -- that putting terrorists on the street is not in our nation's interest. In this respect, the Senate's values are clear. As for this administration's values, we still wonder.

Cat Island needs protection

This week, the House Subcommittee on National Park and Public Lands will hold 15 hearings on a bill to include Cat Island into the Gulf Islands National Seashore. HB 2541, which I introduced on July 15 of this year, would be the first step in protecting this pristine island from commercial development.

Cat Island is the last of the Gulf Islands to be publicly protected. Inclusion of this 2,100-acre island into the National Seashore would protect 21 miles of coastal shoreline, including a six-mile stretch of undeveloped beach. Cat Island is a diverse habitat for a wealth of marine life and shorebirds and it is one of the best surf fishing spots along the entire Gulf Coast.

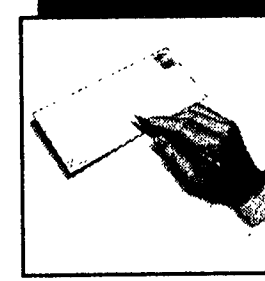

The owners of the island are willing sellers, but they have indicated that they can offer Cat Island for sale to be included as part of the Gulf Islands National Seashore for only a limited time. Approximately 158 acres are to remain in private ownership.

The bill as introduced would retain current state jurisdiction of this island, including continuing responsibility for determining fishing regulations. I have requested that the House Committee on Resources also include a specific report to accompany the bill. This report language would clarify that the State of Mississippi maintains its current jurisdictional authority.

The boundary would be determined by the current mean high tide line of the Mississippi Sound and the Gulf of Mexico and any tidally-affected streams emptying into these waters. Everything below this line is to remain under the jurisdiction of the Mississippi Secretary of State. The determination of fishing regulation around Cat Island will continue to be a function of the state Department of Marine Resources.

I am pleased that Senator Cochran has spearheaded the effort to obtain funding for the purchase of Cat Island. In the committee report language accompanying the Interior Appropriations Act, S. 1292, Senator Cochran has proposed language which encourages the National Park Service to use unobligated land-acquisition funds for the purchase of Cat Island.

I am very hopeful that the Subcommittee on National Parks and Public Lands will give favorable consideration to this bill, and that it will be reported to the full Committee on Resources and to the floor of the House. Generations of South Mississippians have enjoyed the beauty and many benefits of Cat Island. I introduced H.R. 2541 to include Cat Island in the Gulf Islands National Seashore because it is so important that we protect this incredible resource for future generations.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Webb railroad crossing deaths could have been prevented

To the Editor:
As a resident of Webb Street in Bay St. Louis, I sit in my front room or kitchen and can hear the train whistle every time a train is coming.

Let's not say it's the trains that are causing all the accidents on the Coast.

As I said, I live on Webb Street and can see cars every day racing to beat the trains.

As we have taught our children to look in both directions when crossing the roads, it's also important to teach them to stop at all railroad crossings and look in both directions.

Yes, Webb Street is a bad crossing with the steep incline.

You can't see the other side when crossing.

It's a shame that children's lives have to be taken before the weeds and grass get cut and sprayed. My prayers go out to the families.

Library receives flood materials

Waveland Fire Department officials delivered community rating system flood materials to the Hancock County Library System last week. The materials are part of the community rating system, which provides informational brochures and pamphlets to the public for educational purposes. By doing this, the City of Waveland will reduce its flood insurance rating and reduce insurance rates for residents. The materials are available free to the public at all four branches of the library system, Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Kiln and Pearlington. Pictured are, from left Prima Plache, library system director; Capt. Mike Smith, Waveland Fire Department; and Regan Ladner, Waveland fire-fighter.

Special election for state retirement system board

Six educators have qualified as candidates in a special election for the Mississippi Public Employees' Retirement System of Mississippi (PERS) Board of Trustees. The election is for a position representing public school and community college employees.

Candidates, in alphabetical order, are:

Harold Wayne Barnett, of Natchez, Supervisor of Secondary Curriculum for the Natchez-Adams School District.

Lee Childress of Corinth, Assistant Superintendent of the Corinth School District.

George A. Duke of Bay Springs, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent for the West Jasper School District. Sammy Higdon Jr. of Water Valley, Superintendent of the Water Valley School District.

Dale T. Sullivan of Hazlehurst, Superintendent of the Copiah County School District.

Michael W. Walters of Laurel, Assistant Director for Federal Programs of the Jones County School District.

Ballots have been mailed to school districts and community colleges. The deadline for the return of ballots to the PERS Building, 429 Mississippi St., Jackson, MS 39201, is 5 p.m. Wednesday, October 20. Ballot received after the deadline will not be counted, even if the postmark is prior to the deadline.

If no candidate receives a majority in the first election, a runoff will be held between the top two vote getters.

The election is to complete the unexpired six-year term through April 15, 2004, resulting from the retirement of Forrest County Superintendent Walter Cartier.

The 10-member PERS Board administers the state's public retirement system. The Board is comprised of two state employees, two retirees, the State Treasurer, a gubernatorial appointee and one representative each of public schools and community colleges, municipalities, counties and Institutions of Higher Learning.

Hawks hang on to nip Rocks 14-10

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws' #24 Cameron Byrne tackles the Hancock County Hawks' #27 Trellony Mayfield before a record crowd at the Brother Philip Stadium in Bay St. Louis Friday night. The Hawks went on to defeat the Rocks 14-10.

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

With the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws/Hancock Hawks being the only football game in the county, the county showed up to watch. The crowd was anywhere between four to six rows deep of fans on either side of the Brother Philip Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

The fans were given a battle 'in between the walls' on Friday night with the Hancock Hawks prevailing 14-10 and ending the best start for an SSC team since 1991. With the loss, the Rocks fall to 4-1 overall and 0-1 in the district. The Hawks, on the otherhand, reach above .500 with a 3-2 overall record and stand undefeated at 1-0 in the division.

The Rocks entered the game as the favorite; however, the Hawks and Chris Goff had other intentions in mind. For one, the Hawks were looking to avenge last year's 22-12 Homecoming loss to the Rocks. The Hawks did just that as they held the Rocks in check in the second half and scored 14 unanswered points. Goff broke loose for two scores and pounded out 194 yards against a tough Rock defense.

The Rocks started the game off on offense. SSC moved the ball behind the running of junior running back Kris Cannon. He carried four times for 14 yards on the drive. But, the drive stalled and the Rocks punted away.

In Hawk fashion, Hancock started the game in the ground with Chris Goff gaining nine yards. SSC forced Hancock into a third and long situation and freshman quarterback Brandon Necaise's pass was batted down at the line by defensive end Stephen Peterman. The Hawks managed just 11 yards through the air all night. However, the ground attack would surface in the second half.

The Rocks got the ball and mounted a ten-play scoring drive. Santiago kept the ball and scrambled for a 10-yard gain and a Rock first down. Next, SSC gave the ball to Cannon on three straight plays. On the third play, Cannon swept around the end for a 24-yard score. Charles Raymond converted on the PAT and made the score 7-0 with :41 left in the first quarter.

The Hawks were unable to mount a drive on their next possession and punted away to the Rocks. SSC went quickly back to work moving the ball down the field.

Santiago connected Aaron Dunklin for a 40-yard gain down to the Hawk 31 yardline. Next, Santiago hit Cannon in the flats for a 20-yard gain and another Rock first down. However, the Rock signal caller was dropped for a loss on the next play and the Rocks ended up having to try a field goal.

Raymond split the uprights for the Rocks from 25 yards out to make the score 10-0 with 7:58 left to play in the first half.

The Hawks still did not find their groove and punted away to SSC. The Rocks gained a first down on their next series behind a 15-yard run by sophomore tailback Sean Benoit as Hawk linebacker David Seal made a touchdown saving tackle.

After the stop by Seal, the Rocks drive sputtered out and the Rocks punted away.

Goff and the Hawks began to move the ball on their next possession. Goff gained 13 yards on two carries to bring the ball out to their 25 yardline.

Goff then gained another first down for the Hawks with a seven-yard run to the 35 yardline. Necaise then tried his luck with the pass. On the next play, Rock safety D'Mitri Sofianos picked off the Hawk pass at the 45 yardline.

The Rocks ran out of time as the first half ended with SSC ahead 10-0.

The Hawks went to the chalkboard at intermission and came out smoking in the second half.

Hancock opened the second half on offense and the scoring drought ended three plays into the second half. The Hawks got great field position at their own 49 yardline to start the third quarter. On the third play of the drive, Goff broke free for a 40-yard scoring run with 10:35 left in the third quarter. Les Sackett made the PAT and cut the Rocks lead to 10-7.

The Rocks mounted a good drive of their own on their first possession of the second half. Santiago went back to the air finding Brandon Rayborn for a 10-yard gain. Next, he found Peterman for a nine-yard gain and another first down. Cannon carried for some moderate gains; however, Seal and his linebackers were there to stop the SSC workhorse.

SSC ended up having to punt away to the Hawks.

The Hawks started to grind out the yardage behind Goff and Trellony Mayfield. Goff carried three times for 42 yards on the drive. But, the drive was halted when SSC's Brandon Lewis went up and intercepted Necaise on a pass at the Rock 18 yardline.

Santiago found Grady Willis for a 17-yard gain on the first play of the drive; however, the Rocks couldn't muster the troops on the rest of the drive as Seal and Roger Petticrew seemed to be at every turn.

The Hawks took over at their own 36 yardline. Goff gained 20 yards on the first play to put Hancock in Rock territory. Two plays later, Goff gained 21 yards down to the Rock nine yardline. Goff finished off the drive with a three-yard score with 5:41 left to play in the game. Sackett made the PAT giving the Hawks the final score of 14-10. However, the Rocks weren't exactly finished dishing out excitement for the fans.

Santiago gained a first down on an 11-yard keeper. Cannon followed with a 10-yard burst of his own. Next, Santiago tried to go back to the air.

Hancock's Jerry Carco was waiting and intercepted the Rock pass at the Hancock 20 yardline.

With Hancock seemingly in charge, the Hawks tried to keep the ball on the ground. Goff gained 10 yards on two carries and earned Hancock a first down.

Now, with the Hawks winding the clock down, they put the ball back on the ground. SSC's Sofianos came up and forced a Hawk fumble that was recovered by Rock linebacker Cameron Byrne at the Hawk 34 yardline. The Rocks had new life with 1:53 left in the game.

Santiago scrambled for eight yards. Next, Santiago connected with Peterman for a 12-yard gain down to the Hawk 15 yardline. Cannon brought the Rocks inside the Hawk ten yardline. On fourth and four, Santiago threw to Peterman in the corner of the endzone. The ball was deflected by two Hawk defenders and out of the reach for the Rock tight end. And, the Hawks claimed victory.

Hancock head coach Rocky Gaudin recalled his thoughts on the win, "I thought both teams played extremely hard. I liked our heart and personality on the field. However, SSC did a great job tonight. The coaches and players have really turned that program around. Our defense put them in a bind at the end. But, it was great that we could have such a competitive game tonight."

"It will be a very tough district because anybody can play and win right now. We have six more district games and they will all be tough ones."

For the Hawks, Chris Goff gained 194 yards on 19 carries and two scores.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson looked back on the game, "It came down to the fact that we couldn't make the play when we needed to. Hancock came out in the second half and controlled the line of scrimmage."

"We had our chances tonight to do it but we just couldn't make the play. Now, we have to go back and get ready for Columbia next week up there."

"They don't get any easier. The bottom line is we have to improve. The credit goes to Hancock tonight. They prepared and made their adjustments. In return, they won the game."

For the Rocks, Santiago threw for 119 yards while Cannon gained 151 all-purpose yards and a score.

Next week, the Rocks travel to Columbia to take on the Wildcats in a Division 7 Class 4A match-up.

Last year, the Wildcats were the division champs and were state 4A runner-ups at Clarksdale.

The Hawks will entertain the Blue Devils from Pearl River Central next week in a divisional clash in Kiln.

Both games are slated to kick-off at 7:30pm.

Pirates fall to Chiefs in district action

BY STEVE SMITH

The Pass Christian Pirates traveled to Tylertown to face the Tylertown Chiefs in an important district game for both teams. The Chiefs won the toss and choose to kick to the Pirates.

Starting just inside their own 25-yardline, Coach Bo Vonderbrugge's offense drove the length of the field on the strength of fine line blocking and strong running by Carl Bowser, Andrew Moffet, and quarterback Kevin Woods. Rashaad Bowser scored for the Pirates with just over twelve minutes left to play in the first quarter. The point after try was unsuccessful and the Pirates led 6 to 0.

Taking the kick-off at their own 19-yardline, coach Walter Denton's Chiefs sustained a drive deep into Pirate territory. The Pirate defense, led by Myles Wagner, Joey King, Richard Dedeaux and Carl Bowser, shut down the Chiefs and took over on downs at their own 9-yardline.

Working from their endzone with seven minutes left to play in the first quarter, the Pirates were unable to move the chains until a holding call gave them a first down at the 24-yardline. After a two yard loss on a broken play, the Pirates fumbled on second down giving Tylertown the ball with a first-and-goal at the 9-yardline.

The Chiefs wasted no time capitalizing on the Pass Christian blunder, taking the ball in on second down with a fine run by O.J. Magee to tie the score. The point after was good and the Chiefs went ahead, 7 to 6.

The Pirate offense, led by Kevin Woods and Carl Bowser, managed a first down on a gutsy fourth down call that put the ball at the 28-yardline. Tylertown forced a punt on the next series of downs and returned the kick to the Pass Christian 48-yardline. Three successive runs of ten, eleven and twelve yards gave Tylertown a first down at the Pirate 15-yardline just as the first quarter ended. Two plays later, Sedrick Johnson scored on a seven yard run. The point after was good and the Chiefs led 14 to 6 with 11:15 left in the first half.

The teams exchanged punts and Pass Christian's next possession ended with a fumble at their own 36-yardline. Tylertown's O.J. Magee swept right for 11 yards and a first down. The Pirate defense, led again by Joey King, Carl Bowser, Myles Wagner and Richard Dedeaux, was able to stop the Chiefs and Pass Christian took over on downs at their own 25-yardline. The Pirates were moving the ball well when time expired in the first half.

An on-side kick by the Pirates was covered by the Tylertown front-men and the Chiefs started the second half with a first down at the Pirate 49-yardline. After an 11 yard run brought them to the Pass Christian 38-yardline, Tylertown turned the ball over on a fumble.

The Pirates, hampered by penalties, were forced to punt. A roughing-the-kicker penalty gave the Pirates an automatic first down at their own 23-yardline. A 20-yard pass from Woods to Dedeaux gave the Pirates a first down at the 43-yardline, but Woods was intercepted on the next play and Tylertown's offense took over at their own 23-yardline. The Pirate defense held the Chiefs to one first down and took over on their own 20-yardline after a touchback. Tylertown forced another punt and started a drive from the Pirate 43-yardline. Fine running by O.J. Magee and Treginal Holmes put the Chiefs in scoring position as the third quarter ended. Two plays into the fourth quarter, O.J. Magee went around right end to score from 21 yards out. The kick was good and the Chiefs led 21 to 6.

Another Pass Christian fumble in the fourth period gave Tylertown the ball at the Pirate 30-yardline. An interception by Myles Wagner gave the Pirates a first down at their own 29-yardline, but their offense couldn't move the chains and the ball went over on downs.

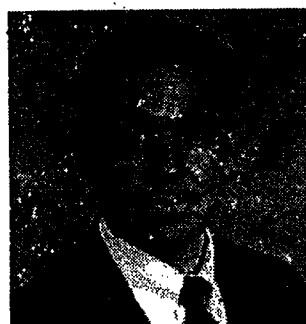

With a first down at the Pirate 39-yardline, the Chiefs rolled into the endzone on sweeps by O.J. Magee and Treginal Holmes and a keeper by Chris Magee for the score with 5:54 remaining in the period. The Kick was good and Tylertown led 28 to 6.

Pass Christian's offense was unable to sustain a drive on their next possession and the Chiefs again took over on downs with the ball on the Pirate 43-yardline. A 34-yard pass from Chris Magee to Treginal Holmes gave the Chiefs first down at the Pass Christian 9-yardline. Sedrick Johnson scored on a sweep around left end and the point after was good, ending the scoring with Tylertown winning 35 to 6.

PRC Blue Devils stun Tigers

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

The Bay High Tigers were rushed over by a tidal wave of Blue Devils in Carriere on Friday night as the host team, Pearl River Central, outscored the visitors 34-8, in the first District 8-4A game of the season for both teams.

Pearl River Central dictated the tempo of the game early, grounding out yardage and keeping the clock ticking as they scored touchdowns on their first two possessions of the game and then converted their fourth possession for a score as well. They were up 19-0 at half-time and 34-0 with just under seven minutes to play in the game.

The Blue Devils ran variations of two or three off-tackle plays to the right side of the field all night, picking up good yardage at will, converting first downs, wearing down the Tigers' defense and chilling the Tigers' offense that in the past few weeks appeared resilient.

"I told the kids tonight that this one can be chalked up to Murphy's Law," said a disappointed Tigers' Coach David Baughman. "If something can go bad, it will go bad. I don't know for certain what happened tonight. I can't put my finger on it. But we were not ready to play tonight. We weren't mentally prepared to play tonight."

"We didn't execute in any phase of the game tonight: not our kicking game, not our special teams; we didn't block well; we didn't tackle well. We just weren't ready to play tonight."

"We may have been a little over confident tonight," Coach Baughman added. "It's part of the growing pains. When you're not used to winning, you have to learn how to handle it. You have to play harder to keep the winning up. That's the part of growing up we've got to learn."

The Tigers made a few big plays on the evening, but they couldn't put two or three plays together on defense or offense. Their biggest play of the night was a Ronald Brown punt return for a touchdown. Brown snatched a slow-rolling football in the midst of three defenders and raced forty-five yards untouched for the score.

Ty Barrett hit Jason Mckay

for a diving catch for the two-point conversion, closing out the scoring with 2:08 left to play in the game.

On the Tigers' first defensive play of the game, tackle Bert Hoppood stopped the Blue Devils' running back for a one-yard loss, but on the very next play, the home team completed a fifteen-yard pass.

On the second defensive series, the Tigers appeared to be on the verge of slowing the Blues Devils' ground assault as Tony Davis and Adam Barrett held the gain to two yards on first down. But on a third-and-five situation at the Bay High forty-one yardline, the Blue Devils scored a touchdown with the long pass, giving the home team a 13-0 lead.

On the ensuing possession, with third and fifteen yards for a first down at his own twenty-five yardline, Ty Barrett passed and was picked off by a Blue Devil defensive back.

On the Tigers' most impressive defense series of the night, Tony Davis hit the quarterback from his blindside, causing a fumble that was recovered by Willie Whavers, who picked up the ball and ran about ten yards, giving the Tigers a first-and-ten at Pearl River Central's forty-six yardline. The drive ended with an interception in the end zone with 9:29 remaining in the first half.

On the ensuing defensive series, Bay High had the Blue Devils in a fourth and and just over five yards for a first down, but an off sides call against Bay High made it fourth-and-inches. Instead of punting, the Blue Devils went for it and were successful. Tristen Haynes nearly intercepted a Blue Devils' pass on the very next play, and the fate of the Tigers was about to start showing in a tiring defense that had been on the field for about sixteen minutes of the twenty minutes that had been completed.

The Blue Devils picked up a first down on a thirty-eight yard pass completion to the Bay High thirteen yardline. Three plays later, they had a first and goal at the Tigers' two yardline. On the next play they pushed it in, and the Tigers appeared deflated, down 19-0.

The home team held the Tigers to four snaps on the ensuing series, as Ty Barrett passed incomplete on a fourth and inches for a first down. With eighteen seconds remaining in the half, Chris Ray sacked the Blue Devils quarterback, keeping the home team out of field-goal range.

The second half was more of the same as the Blue Devils picked up two first downs on the initial drive of the half. A Tony Davis fumble recovery halted the drive, but again, a stingy Blue Devils' defense held the Tigers to four snaps. Four plays later, the Blue Devils capitalized on a one-yard punch play for the score, giving the home team a 27-0 lead following a successful two-point conversion play with 6:47 left in the third quarter.

The Blue Devils final score of the night came at the 6:57 mark in the fourth quarter. Following a Timmy Wright punt, the Blue Devils picked up four first downs and capped the drive with a five-yard rushing score and a successful point-after-kick.

"This was a nightmare," said Coach Baughman. "We've got to regroup and get ready for Oak Grove next week. I think our kids will use this as a motivator."

The Tigers are 3-2 on the season and host District 8-4A opponent Oak Grove for homecoming next Friday night at J.D. McCullough Stadium.

ALM sends two to help with Floyd relief; more expected to go

Salvation Army officers from Birmingham, Ala. and Shreveport, La., are in North Carolina helping with relief efforts for victims of Hurricane Floyd, and canteens and personnel from six other Salvation Army offices are expected to join them.

"Canteens from Huntsville, Anniston, Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile and Tupelo have been notified," said Major Dewey Alderson, divisional secretary for The Salvation Army's Alabama-Louisiana-Mississippi

Division. "Crews are ready to take them whenever they're called."

The remaining canteens and officers of the ALM Division remain on alert and, if needed, will join the relief effort, which now includes 29 teams from the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida.

As state and county emergency management officials identified needs, phones rang frequently at The Salvation Army incident command headquarters in Wilmington.

"Requests are popping all over, and we're responding as quickly as we can," said Captain Robert Stutta, Carolina's Disaster Emergency Response Team coordinator.

Emergency housing is one key need, since high water has rendered many homes inaccessible. The Salvation Army operated 13 storm shelters since Sept. 15.

To help meet the immediate and long-term need, donations may be made by calling 1-800-SAL-ARMY, or they can be marked "Disaster Relief" and directed to any local Salvation Army.

PRCC President Alexander announces retirement

Pearl River Community College President Ted Alexander will retire June 30, 2000 with 42 years of public service in various Mississippi educational institutions.

Alexander, president since 1986, informed the PRCC Board of Trustees of his retirement plans during the regular September meeting.

Alexander also announced that on July 1 he will become president and chief executive officer of the Lower Pearl River Valley Foundation, a private, not-for-profit foundation, which has already initiated several projects to benefit communities and citizens in the immediate area.

During Alexander's tenure as head of Mississippi's first junior college, the school quadrupled the number of district citizens (12,000) served each year through its varied educational offerings and the college's budget increased from $6.4 million to more than $36.8 million.

Alexander has been the guiding force in renovating and rebuilding the school's Poplarville and Hattiesburg campuses and the implementation of numerous academic and technical course offerings. Renovation and construction projects completed total more than $31 million with another $9 million scheduled.

The Pearl River Board of Trustees immediately named its planning committee and the board is expected to begin accepting applications for the position of president on Nov. 1.

Prick's president is the chief executive and administrative officer of the institution and reports to the 16-member governing board.

"Dr. Alexander has set the stage for Pearl River to continue its role as the pathfinder for the state's community and junior college system into the 21st century," said Charles Speed, board vice-chair and a Jefferson Davis County board member since 1964.

"Over the Years Dr. Alexander tackled many sensitive issues head on," said Speed. "But he never lost focus on what it takes to keep Pearl River in the educational forefront within our district."

"Dr. Alexander has worked tirelessly over the years in securing funding for pay raises to provide a better livelihood for Pearl River employees," said Frank Ladner, who represents Hancock County on the board. This past year Dr. Alexander recommended and we approved a 11.8 percent salary increase."

Ladner said the formation of the Development Foundation provides teaches and students with extras for the classroom. Assistance has been in the form of student scholarships and grants and teacher enhancement grants.

Alexander is presently serving his second year as chair of the Mississippi Association of community and Junior Colleges and he is also a board member of the Mississippi Economic Council, and past chair of the Mississippi Humanities Council.

Over the years he has served as a junior and high school science teacher, English teacher, coach, counselor, assistant principal, principal and superintendent.

Hancock Middle School holds assembly

Students enrolled at The Dance Company in Diamondhead recently entertained Hancock Middle School students as a part of the annual Hawk Pride Assembly for grades 6-8. The agenda for the event included singers, dancers, award presentations, speakers and cheers. The highlight of the Hawk Pride Assembly was a speech about community pride given by Dave McDonald of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

Estonian student attends USMGC

A program designed to promote literacy overseas has helped the University of Southern Mississippi gain its first student from Estonia.

Jelena Jefimova, an 18-year-old English major from Narva, Estonia, is attending USM Gulf Coast for the fall semester studying American literature, business ethics and philosophy.

A student at the University of Tartu in Estonia, she got a chance to come to the U.S. to study because of Dr. Janet Richards, an associate professor of education and psychology at USMGC.

As a participant in the Reading and Writing for Critical Thinking Project, part of the International Reading Association, Richards makes twice-yearly trips to Estonia.

"I was introduced to Jelena by her mother, who is a school teacher in Estonia," Richards said.

Jefimova's mother worked with Richards to arrange for her daughter to travel to the Gulf Coast for classes. She will live with Richards for the four months.

"This experience will help me improve my English and broaden my world view," Jefimova said. "In the future, I hope to return to the U.S. and become a full-time student."

Area students named to dean's list

Auburn University students who meet specific scholastic requirements each quarter are placed on a list for the dean of a student's school for outstanding academic achievement.

To qualify for the dean's list, students must be enrolled for 15 or more graded credit hours, pass all courses for the quarter and earn a grade-point average of at least 3.4.

Local students included on Auburn's dean's list for spring 1999 include Margaret Harris and Matthew Knight, engineering; and Beverly Sy, liberal arts, all of Bay St. Louis.

BUSINESS NEWS

Landsat imagery of Africa completed

Earth Satellite Corp. of Rockville, Md., has completed a data set image of the continent of Africa for NASA's Scientific Data Buy (SDB) Program at the John C. Stennis Space Center.

The initial development of this global image database draws on the entire legacy of U.S. involvement in a land satellite program called Landsat.

The data set, gathered from the Landsat satellites, is part of a $16 million scientific data buy contract NASA awarded EarthSAT to provide high-resolution images of the entire Earth.

"Africa and portions of the Middle East are the first images completed; however, by fall 2000, the company plans to have completed an image mosaic of the entire world using Landsat imagery," said Fritz Policelli. NASA's SDB project manager at Stennis Space Center.

"This will be the first time orthorectified images are produced for the entire Earth at 30 meters resolution," Policelli said. Orthorectification is the process of correcting the raw imagery for errors introduced by variations in the Earth's elevation.

He said the images would allow scientists to study the Earth's land usage changes, as well as track previous land management results.

The data will be used by the scientific community to study land cover, land use changes, urban sprawl, desertification, coastal changes, deforestation and many other aspects of our changing planet.

Earth Satellite Corp. is providing two historical sets of data: Orthorectified Multi-spectral Scanner Imagery from the 1970s, and orthorectified Thematic Mapper Imagery from 1987-1993 with 1990 as a target date.

The 1970s data will be used as a baseline to track changes that have taken place over the past 20 years.

A third set of data — a compressed mosaic of the 1990's Landsat TM data — will also be available.

"Scientists can determine changes in land uses since the 1970s using this data," Policelli explained.

Also, he added that the orthorectified data could be used as a tool to orthorectify newly gathered satellite data.

"A scientist can order new images gathered from the Landsat 7 satellite, lay it over the Earth Satellite Corp. provided data, and have up-to-date, orthorectified data on any particular region of Africa right now," he said.

"When the entire project is completed, scientists will have that capability for the entire world."

Dr. Compton Tucker, a senior Earth scientist at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., is supporting the Commercial Remote Sensing Program Office with the project.

According to Tucker, the imagery will be used for land research by the government, as well as the academic and private sector communities.

"This information will be used for a very wide variety of purposes from geography, to geology and even agriculture," Tucker said. "It is also historical."

The data is available for use by government-affiliated researchers and can be ordered at www.crsp.ssc.nasa.gov/databuy.

The SDB, a demonstration program developed in response to the President's Space Policy, directs NASA to purchase remote sensing data from the private commercial sector. Initiated in 1997, the SDB was funded under the Earth Science Enterprise Program to provide scientific data to the science community.

The $50 million program is an opportunity to advance global-system research, to strengthen the U.S. economy through development of remote sensing technologies.

The Commercial Remote Sensing Program is managing the program at Stennis Space Center, NASA's lead center for commercial remote sensing.

GM&R awarded $8M contract

The U.S. Army has awarded a $8,085,284 contract to GM&R Construction company of Bay St. Louis.

The work will be performed at the Combat Readiness Training Center (Air National Guard) in Gulfport.

The contract is for the replacement of an aircraft maintenance hangar, which will consist of construction of a 46,000 square foot hangar with administrative facilities to support composite aircraft maintenance.

"Upgrading our military infrastructure is a major part of our ongoing efforts to ensure that our military personnel have the quality tools they need to perform in the 21st Century," Senator Trent Lott said.

"The Air National Guard at Gulfport plays an important role in our nation's air defense, and this hangar will help ensure that this unit continues to perform efficiently."

The estimated contract completion date is March 31, 2001.

Dredge -- LDEQ holds up local permit must be tested by a state-accredited laboratory for alkalinity (the level of caustic mineral salts), pH (the degree of acidity or alkalinity) and mercury (a heavy silver-white metallic element that usually occurs in combination with sulfur).

The Port and Harbor Commission also needs a coastal-use permit from the Louisiana Department of Natural Resources and a wetlands mitigation permit from the Vicksburg District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Tulane university geologist and Audubon Council spokesperson Barry Kohl said a main concern of the Audubon Council is that contaminated sediments would be deposited at sites in open water and marshes.

"Since these sediments are contaminated, any disposal should be in EPA approved sites, not in open-water sites," said Kohl. "Contaminated sediments cannot be legally placed in open-water disposal sites or in non-approved containment areas," he added.

Kohl and other environmentalists also said they are concerned that churning on the lake bottom caused by the dredging might spread the pollution, if any actually exists.

The public comment period for the two Louisiana agencies involved have expired, but might be reopened in the event some contamination is found. The Audubon Council also wants a public hearing.

The Corps of Engineers, meanwhile, has not opened its public comment period, and apparently is awaiting sampling demanded by the Louisiana DEQ.

Geoff Clemens, project engineer with Compton, said he is working closely with the port's Vicksburg consultants, and testing will begin shortly.

"At this point, concerns over mercury contamination may be a little pre-mature," said Clemens. He said the test results will be turned over to LDEQ and other involved agencies.

"Certainly, delaying the dredging project could and would affect our ability to operate with our ocean-shipping to Mexico and the Yucatan," Port and Harbor Commission Executive Director Hal Walters said Friday, "as well as cut off our barge access to the Stennis Space Center ... and any business that is involved in waterborne transport. And certainly, I'm concerned about that."

The dredging is being financed mainly with funds channeled to Mississippi's Emergency Management Administration by the national FEMA organization, since silt-ing resulted from last year's Hurricane Georges.

MEMA has promised the Port Commission up to $500,000 for the dredging. Plans call for dredging a 200-foot-wide area of Little Lake between East Pass at Hog Island and the Rigolets and Little Lake Pass near Pearl River on the Louisiana-Mississippi border.

An estimated 185,000 cubic yards of material would be dredged from the channel to deepen it from 9 to 12 feet. More than one-third of the dredged material would be used to help restore marshes in three dead-end bayous, according to the initial application.

Stennis -- funding restored

Defense Authorization Bill for fiscal year 2000 included a provision providing a 4.8 percent pay raise for military personnel.

"With this pay raise, we are beginning to address an acute recruitment and retention problem that is plaguing our military," said Lott. "The pay scale for our uniformed personnel is severely lacking compared to salaries in the private sector. Meanwhile, the Administration continues to demand more and more of our military personnel to support numerous overseas commitments. I hope the President will acknowledge the dedication of these men and women by signing this bill and implementing this well-deserved pay raise," Lott added.

The Defense Authorization Bill provides funding for several other operations under way at Stennis and along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

•A total $9.6 million was provided for a Navy Small Craft Instruction and Technical School to be built at Stennis. The facility will include temporary living quarters, a dining room, classrooms, offices, a laboratory and a supply warehouse for a small-boat training unit moving from Panama to Stennis.

•$14 million was added to the President's budget request to encourage commercial firms to use Government-owned ammunition facilities of the Department of the Army for commercial purposes. The extra funding is expected to increase use and attract additional tenants to the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at Stennis, and at other military installations.

•Another $5.5 million was authorized to fund two technologies being developed by Maxdem, Incorporated, which recently decided to locate its manufacturing facility at Hancock County's Port Bienville Industrial Park.

The first project involves producing a foam core for structural uses in aircraft and the second project will develop plans to create lightweight high-performance materials to be used to build the next generation of Army vehicles and equipment.

•To the benefit of the entire Gulf Coast, another $8.9 million was provided to house the new C-130J flight simulators and maintenance trainers for the Hurricane Hunter Squadron stationed at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi.

Murder -- suspect held here lated in real estate and owned radio stations, including WBSL here in Bay St. Louis.

Garrett has since been laid to rest, but according to a St. Tammany Parish Sheriff's Office press release, Terry Wayne Kendrick, 38, has confessed to murdering Garrett.

Kendrick had done some handiwork for Garrett, and according to the press release, Kendrick "went to the residence to commit burglary, and Garrett confronted Kendrick in the garage. When confronted, investigators allege Kendrick struck Garrett in the head with a blunt object."

"Garrett fell, hitting his head on the lawn mower and landing next to a wooden ramp, making it appear that the lawn mower had fallen on his head," the press release said.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said he had been holding Kendrick about a day for the Pearl River Sheriff's Office on a burglary charge. Peterson said Pearl River authorities came and picked him up Thursday afternoon, and Pearl River authorities reported that Kendrick's has since been turned over to St. Tammany Parish officials.

St. Tammany officials said relatives of Garrett became suspicious when the hospital turned over Garrett's belongings, but his billfold was missing. They later found more items missing at the house, and asked the Sheriff's Department to continue its investigation.

With the family's permission, Garrett's body was expected to be exhumed to determine the exact cause of death, and Kendrick is in jail on a charge of first-degree murder.

Kendrick was released from the Mississippi State Penitentiary in Parchman last December, and has a lengthy criminal record. Pearl River County Sheriff Dan McNeil said his office was keeping Kendrick under surveillance since learning he had returned to Picayune. He was suspected in several residential burglaries in Pearl River County in recent weeks, but his criminal record dates back to 1978.

He had already been convicted of receiving stolen checks, parole violation, receiving stolen property, burglary, check forgery and grand larceny.

entered the room as "Captain Colorific, wearing a colorful hat and black cape.

Before the instructions began, Ipser came through the door wearing a colorful hat and a black cape and announced, "I'm Captain Colorific!" He showed the children a video produced by Flight by Night, which featured "Mr. Doodle." The pencil-shaped main character took the kids through the basics of how to sketch a person's head, and instructions were in a rap beat. Following the video, Gandy took the children, and some adults who joined in, through the basics of sketching.

Ipser said he came to Bay St. Louis at the invitation of Terry Latham, executive director of Hope Haven, Hancock County's shelter for abused and neglected children.

Ipser's production company produces and distributes interactive instructional videos on art instruction used by Public Broadcast Stations, classroom teachers and other clients. Ipser called Latham to ask if there was a place he could come to hand out the free arts supplies and provide art classes for children.

Latham arranged the Save Our Children Center, and instructors at the center will continue with the twice-a-week art classes twice a week for the remainder of the school year.

'Stella Does the Fishing' at this home

Views From a Front Porch
by Paul Estronza La Violette

From our kitchen window, I can see my wife, Stella, wade fishing in the Sound over by Carrere's pier. She got up before daybreak and drove to Bayou Caddy to get live shrimp for bait. By daybreak, just as I was getting out of bed, she was in the water between the wooden culvert and Carrere's pier, moving near the pilings and casting for flounder. As she moves farther out to where the water is waist deep, she casts, hoping to catch redfish or speckled trout (specks).

If I'm lucky she'll get a black drum, a fish I particularly like. If she does, I'll have it for a late breakfast with some eggs, fried tomatoes and onions from the garden. I get a cup of coffee and a slice of Stella's pound cake and go out on the front porch. Jennie, our Weimaraner, trots along after me. Maybe I'll drop some cake.

The water is extremely calm, almost glassy. On calm days like this you can see the mullet schools running in broad sheets of rippled water. Here and there a mullet leaps clear of the water. There are none today, but quite often there are mullet fishermen going after these schools. Occasionally they wade out to do this, but more often they use a Jon boat with a lightmotor to move among the schools.

One man sits in the back of the boat running the motor and guiding the craft to the schools. The other stands in the bow with the cast net hanging from his hands waiting till they get in position and then throwing the net clear of the boat in a broad graceful sweep over the water.

On calm days like this, you can hear the soft smack of the net hitting the water and the quiet voices of the men in the boat.

Today, Stella seems to be having some luck. I go out on the porch and see about three other fishermen near her, a gathering that's a sign they are getting bites. They are at the end of the pier in waist-deep water. The pier is a popular place for wade fishermen and usually there are about five or six strung about the pier casting for fish. From what Stella tells me, they usually are good company and when the same ones return again and again it is somewhat like a pleasant club that adds to the fun of her fishing.

She has been out there for quite awhile. She'll be coming in soon and, since it is after ten, we'll probably be having those fish for lunch, rather than breakfast. I head back to the office, grabbing another piece of cake as I pass through the kitchen, and continue working in the office in the back of the house. Jennie stays with me, still hoping I'll drop some of the cake.

About an hour later, I hear the pickup pulling in. Stella is back. Now she'll cook what she's caught and we should have a nice lunch. Thinking about this, I hurry to the back to help her unload and wash down her fishing gear. She'll think I'm being nice, but like Jennie, I know when to wag my tail.

She's both tired and excited about what she has been doing. I hear the usual "got away" stories and say "Gee" and "Hmm" at the appropriate times.

However, she says she has caught two very pretty speckled trout and wants to fix them for lunch. She shows them to me. They look very nice and I quickly agree they would be nice for lunch.

Bay St. Louis native Jean Warner will be among a host of artists exhibiting their work in COLLAGE, an arts festival in Pass Christian that will coincide with the Gulf Marine Education Festival. COLLAGE runs Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 2 and 3, while the Gulf Festival will be held on Saturday.

Marine Education, International Food fests coming next weekend

Looking for something educational, fun and free for the entire family to enjoy? Then celebrate the Gulf Marine Education Festival, which will be held next Saturday, Oct. 2, in the picturesque Pass Christian harbor.

Lively, hands-on exhibits addressing marine and estuarine environmental issues and recreational and commercial activities associated with the Gulf will be set up throughout the festival grounds. This year's exhibits will include wild animals and native plants, as well as high tech demonstrations of state of the art oceanographic equipment.

Demonstrations on flyfishing techniques and the safe operation of canoes, kayaks, personal watercraft and other boats will also be offered periodically throughout the festival.

Additionally, this year for the first time, a Marine Cuisine tent will be featured to teach adults how to choose, prepare and cook local seafood species. Local chefs and fishermen will create their specialties using local coastal seafood species such as speckled trout, shrimp and oysters.

Drawings will be held during each cooking demo, and the lucky winners will be able to taste the chefs' creations.

For the youngsters, a Junior Catch and Release Fishing Rodeo will begin at 8:00 a.m. and finish at 11:00 a.m. Children 12 and under may participate.

Registration will take place at the festival site. Children must provide their own fishing gear and bait, and they must fish in the pre-designated area. The young anglers will be shown techniques for catching and releasing their fish and prizes will be awarded in several categories.

Just down the road from the festivities, an art festival called COL-

LAGE will be taking place simultaneously. Works of local artists will be on exhibit and available for purchase. Free trolley rides will be available to take you between these two events and the parking areas. Food vendors will be available at each site.

OUR LADY ACADEMY'S INTERNATIONAL FOOD FEST

And next Friday and Saturday, the people of Bay St. Louis are gearing up for what has become a popular annual event on the Gulf Coast entertainment calendar -- Our Lady Academy's International Food Festival.

The 17th Annual Food Fest will be held under the beautiful old oaks on South Beach Boulevard adjacent to Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

The festival action begins Friday, Oct. 1 at 5:30 p.m. and continues through Saturday and Sunday with, as event promoters promise, "great food, extraordinary entertainment and great food."

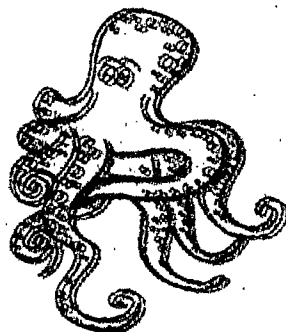

The event will also host local and regional arts and crafters. The festival's main attraction -- the food -- will include Gulf seafood, along with Greek, Italian, Cajun, Western, German, Mexican, American, Oriental and "Low Country" specialties, along with desserts, "bloomin' onions and funnel cakes. Also featured is John "Chappy" Chapman's booth and secret menu.

Food Fest entertainment will include: Friday, Coast Karaoke from 6-10 p.m.; Saturday, the Diane Desporte Dancers from 1-2 p.m., Rythm Rockets from 2:30-6 p.m., and Dr. Rock and the Interns from 7-11 p.m.; and Sunday, the Pat Murphy band will play from 1-5 p.m.

There will also be a haunted house, children's "funland," under-tent flea market and a $1,000 raffle.

The Food Fest is organized and operated by an all-volunteer army of teachers, parents and friends of the school.

LCDR Tim Lane of Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command demonstrates for the students a weather balloon and an attached instrument known as the radiosonde used to collect weather data.

Students learn about hurricanes at Stennis

Hurricane season is still upon us, prompting educators to inform our youth.

Amidst a group of 162 animated, inquisitive students from Bay Catholic Elementary School in Bay St. Louis, a Navy meteorologist talked about hurricanes last week.

"It is really great to see so many young students interested in meteorology and science," said LCDR Tim Lane, of the Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command located at Stennis Space Center.

Lane is a meteorologist and oceanographer at the command and explained to the students the various methods used by Navy meteorologists to track and predict the formation and probable strike areas of hurricanes.

"Accurate long range Hurricane forecasting is important to the Navy due to the large number of ships and aircraft that have to be moved out of port in case of an approaching storm," said Lane. "Hurricane Floyd is a recent example of how a good track forecast help planners decide when and where to evacuate ships and aircraft to prevent damage."

The Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command and its activities are responsible for tropical storm predictions around the world for the Navy. Accurate forecasting of inclement weather is essential to the safety of Navy personnel and facilities.

State Department of Education offers safe schools conference for parents

The Mississippi Department of Education is set to hold a safe schools conference designed for parents on October 7 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in downtown Jackson.

School district officials are encouraged to send at least one parent from each of their schools to the free conference.

Safe Schools: A Parent's Perspective will address a number of issues, including the parent's role in safe school planning, strategies to prevent bullying and the warning signs of troubled youth.

Office of Safe and Orderly Schools Director Regina Ginn said parental support is a key component of safe schools.

"Parents know their children better than anyone," Ginn said. "They can detect warning signs that could lead to a crisis long before anyone else usually can. If our efforts to continue strengthening school safety are to be successful, we need the support and intervention of parents."

USM grant to aid county

The University of Southern Miss will use a $175,000 federal grant—one of the largest of its kind in the nation—to help improve student teachers' command of instructional technology.

The Southern Miss grant is among $135 million in U.S. Department of Education awards announced Aug. 24 by Vice President Al Gore. The grants all support efforts to improve teachers' use of technology in the classroom.

Three types of grants were awarded: capacity-building, which develops groundwork for a program; implementation, which allows education entities to carry out ideas; and catalyst, designed to stimulate large-scale improvements in the development of technology-proficient educators.

USM's grant partners include the Hancock County, Biloxi, Hattiesburg, Laurel, Moss Point, Ocean Springs and Petal public school districts.

Community college partners will play an important role in determining what entry-level standards should be expected of teacher-education candidates.

Those partners are Copiah-Lincoln, Hinds, Jones, Mississippi Gulf Coast, Pearl River and Southwest Mississippi community colleges.

For information about USM's grant, call Malone at (601) 266-5052.

The conference's opening session begins at 9:30 a.m., with the conference expected to end at about 5 p.m.

Although there is no cost for participation, parents planning to attend should reserve a space by calling the Office of Safe and Orderly Schools at (601) 359-1028.

Several parent groups—including the Mississippi Parent-

Teacher Association and Parents for Public Schools—are serving as conference co-sponsors.

"We are excited about this opportunity to work together with our state's parent organizations and to provide this information to parents," Ginn said. "We expect to provide similar opportunities to parents in the future."

College board approves salaries for institutional executive officers at comprehensive universities

The Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning at its September meeting voted to raise the salaries of Institutional Executive Officers (IEOs) at Mississippi State University, the University of Mississippi and the University of Southern Mississippi to $150,000 for Fiscal Year 2000.

The board also announced that it had acted at its August meeting to increase the Commissioner of Higher Education's salary to $160,000, FY 2000.

In making the recommendation to raise the salaries,

Budget & Financial Affairs Committee Chair J. Marlin Ivey said, "We believe the salary increases are most deserved."

The board voted to accept the first draft of an Institutional Executive Officer Compensation Policy concerning foundation salary supplements for IEOs at the three comprehensive universities. The policy will be on the agenda for the October meeting.

The board also voted unanimously to rename the University of Southern Mississippi Center for Gifted Studies the Frances A. Karnes Center for Gifted Studies.

USMGC Toy Library gets new pond

The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast's Toy Library Center has a new pond, thanks to group of pond enthusiasts.

The Gulf Coast Pond Society rebuilt the center's pond and touch-and-feel garden the last weekend in August as a community service. The shallow, above-ground pond features water plants throughout.

The touch-and-feel garden and pond provides children with an opportunity to view nature up close.

The Toy Library Center, which serves approximately 320 children each year, is open to all children who have a physical handicap. The center has educational toys specially adapted for children with disabilities and loans toys out at no cost.

For more information, call (228) 867-2636.

Stella

She immediately slaps the fish on her fillet board and starts filleting.

She's done in minutes. And heads inside to take a shower. As she goes, she tasks me to run over to the Pass and get some large shrimp and fresh French bread.

I leave with Jennie in the pickup. Jennie loves to ride in the truck.

Ordinarily, she is an extremely hyper dog. But once in the truck, she sits upright, almost motionless. The only thing that moves is her head, and it constantly darts about to check on every item we pass, making sure that things are being done right. I guess, sometimes they are not, because every so often she lets out a low growl.

Today she doesn't growl at all, a sign, I suppose, that today things are being done right. And I agree with her, it looks that way to me, too. I'll be the first to admit I'm spoiled. Years past, when I was a bachelor, my week's shopping for food usually consisted of buying seven TV dinners, a six-pack of beer, a liter of soft drink and some bread, tea and yogurt. And what was so bad about that was that I didn't know there was a difference. I thought that what I ate, while not great, was okay.

Stella, who was a fair cook when we got married, started to expand her skills when we moved into the new house. She began doing things in the kitchen in an intuitive way that constantly surprised me. Our food became very good, then great, then excellent. And my palate improved.

Jennie and I buy the bread, still warm, at the bakery and then go to get the shrimp at a retailer/wholesaler on the Pass Christian Municipal Pier.

The place is busy, some boats are just coming in. I find that the shrimp are a little high, four dollars a pound, but the retailer, a friendly easy-going person I've met several times before, says that "they're fresh, just brought in that morning." When I look at them, I see that they are about a fifteen to twenty count (fifteen to twenty to the pound) which is very good and I get a pound.

When I return, I find Stella has cooked some wild rice and made a tomato salad with tomatoes from her garden and some excellent balsamic vinegar.

She compliments me on the size of the shrimp and, while I set the table in the dining room, she proceeds to finish fixing the meal. First she butterfies and seasons the shrimp and then pan fries them together with the fish in virgin olive oil, placing the results on a large platter with the rice.

We sit down to eat, looking out the windows at the place where much of the food on the table was caught. The show of the food on the platter in the center of the table is both delightful and mouth-watering to see. I uncup a real dark heady beer, that goes good with seasoned shrimp and fish, put my bare feet on Jennie's back (she's under the table; maybe something will fall), and enjoy a good meal.

Jane Amos knew that she had to lose a lot of weight to find herself again. But more than that, to save her life. Like so many, she tried countless diets and medications. Their failure led to her depression and her fear of heart attack and stroke.

Then Jane discovered the "Live Light" Surgical Weight Loss Program at Gulf Coast Medical Center. As part of the Weight Management Center, "Live Light" has helped Jane live a more active life. And if you ask us, it's a lifestyle that fits her quite nicely.

This testimonial reflects the results achieved by this patient. As each case is different and must be independently evaluated and managed, weight loss will vary.

Mississippi AARP Tax-Aide seeks volunteers

AARP Tax-Aide is looking for volunteers to help taxpayers complete their 1999 federal and state income tax forms in 2000.

This is a free community service program sponsored by AARP and administered by the AARP Foundation in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

"AARP Tax-Aide is the country's largest volunteer-run tax counseling service," said Dr. Troy Daniel, who resides in Starkville and is Tax-Aide's state coordinator.

Nationally, AARP Tax-Aide volunteers helped over 1.6 million taxpayers this year. In Mississippi, 204 Tax-Aide volunteers assisted more than 10,000 taxpayers at 58 sites across the state.

Daniel said that becoming an AARP Tax-Aide counselor is not that difficult. "If you can balance your checkbook, that's a good indicator," he said. Several of the sites are equipped with computer hardware and software to enable specially trained counselors to prepare and file returns electronically.

Using materials developed and supplied by the IRS, volunteers receive anywhere from three to five days of training to prepare them to do a high-quality job of helping people with their tax returns.

Anyone interested in volunteering in the AARP Tax-Aide program is urged to call the Mississippi Tax-Aide toll-free information number at 1-800-338-3167.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly offers fall tips

CHANGE IS IN THE AIR

September's a time of many changes. Kids (and some adults, too) go back to classes ... the weather cools off ... leaves on trees begin changing color.

"This is a great time to make that big change you've been contemplating: Beginning a healthier lifestyle that enables you to lose weight," said Carolyn Kinabrew, a representative of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly).

All during 1999, TOPS chapters everywhere have been celebrating the theme "Choosing to Change." Kinabrew said, "If you're ready to make that choice, TOPS can help."

Kinabrew noted that TOPS provides:

1. Support over the long haul from chapter friends who care and understand.

2. Guidance in eating right via its new lifestyle guide, The Choice Is Yours, and many other publications, including a monthly membership magazine.

3. Contests, incentives, award programs, and even walking "teams" — all designed to help and reward you down

To learn more about TOPS and to locate the chapter nearest you, call Carolyn Kinabrew at 228-388-1916 or toll-free at 1-800-932-8677, or log on to TOPS' Web site at www.tops.org for that information along with weightloss tips, facts, and success stories.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Advertorial

JOHN DOBBE CONSTRUCTION, INC. DBA

The New Life concept was started in 1984 as New Life Window and Siding Company. In a ten year period New Life became the foremost leader in window replacement and vinyl siding work on the Gulf Coast.

In 1994 John Dobbe Construction, Inc. picked up on the New Life concept and went forward with the trade name "New Life". The butterfly logo is a symbol representing transformation, as New Life can transform your home into something beautiful.

New Life perfected their sunroom design and started manufacturing in this area. When it comes to window replacement and protection from storm and crime New Life is the leader among Coast residents. New Life also has the popular Sunesta retractable awnings, for sun protection of your house or pool.

Vinyl siding is still a large part of our business. We can enhance your home with a beautiful sunroom, pool enclosure, or a screen enclosure. Our hottest product on the market presently is vinyl fencing. We introduced this product earlier this year at the Home Improvement Show.

The New Life concept is to be the quality exterior remodeler by using only top of the line materials and craftsmen.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

The spin doctor is one of the busiest of all buzz words nowadays. Anyone who is anybody in higher politics, business or entertainment eventually needs a spin doctor, especially to take care of public relations in-crisis damage control.

As we have seen abundantly from recent scandals in high places, and from hoof-and-mouth disease rampant particularly among politicians, spin doctors find ample employment in virtually every walk of life everywhere in the world.

Spin doctors tell us not only why something happened, but often try to tell us what actually happened, when it happened and how it came about. To hear them, we the public cannot afford to rely on any of our senses or thought processing.

Piteous and degrading as that is to our ego and dignity, we should gladly turn to someone who does not practice spin doctoring and who in turn has no need of a spin doctor.

Now who on earth would that be? Surely, no human being, because we are all so severely flawed, limited and fraught with errors of every kind. Paul highlights that for us by his exploits and weaknesses (2 Corinthians 12:9):

"I will rather boast most gladly of my weaknesses, in order that the Power of Christ may dwell with me."

A good spin doctor would have had a field day doing a few spins on Paul. However, Paul himself was his best possible spin doctor, since he simply relied on the teaching of Jesus to explain his apparent contradictions of power and weakness.

No human being fills the role of one who needs no spin doctor. So, try the Man himself, who was the only person never in need of a spin doctor, because whatever he said or did was completely together at all times.

Of all the people who ever lived or ever will live, Jesus is the only one who could say without blinking: "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes, to the Father except through me. (John 14:6),

No one can put a spin on what Jesus says, because whatever he says is the only true word and the last word on any subject. There is no spinning in God's kingdom, but only the Word of God, unchanging, irrefutable, razor-sharp.

In the words of Jesus himself, "Let your 'Yes' mean Yes, and your 'No' mean 'No.' Anything more is from the evil one" (Matthew 5:37). Giving no advice at all, Jesus left us crystal-clear commands for thoughts, words and deeds.

The only slight exception we might make would be some of his parables. However, even the Parables were so crafted that they admit of several good interpretations, forcing our minds to expand as far as possible in exploring the Good News.

Spin doctors and their constant, daily fabrications are an implicit admission of human failure. Since many high-profile people cannot keep their minds or their mouths clean, they call in spin doctors to show there is no dirt after all.

What all politicians, business people, entertainers and all forms of hustlers have in common is the objective of making a clean, powerful pitch for the goods they hawk.

In that light, who can begin to compare with the ultimate Pitch Man, the Word of God, who promises us truth at all times, the Peace which the world cannot give, the power to overcome all, and eternal life in his Father's kingdom?

The ultimate pitch man

Too Many Things To Do

In today's world, it seems that we are all involved with too many things to manage and do, and over the years we may have accumulated more possessions than we need or can reasonably take care of. Each day I will usually make a list of the things that I want to get done during the day, and it seems that no matter how much I may get accomplished, each day I have another list. Occasionally, I may even get discouraged because there never seems to be enough hours in the day, but surprisingly, there is a lot of satisfaction in crossing off those items on the list that do get completed. If I had to choose between being too busy or not busy enough, I must admit that I would rather be too busy. Life is exciting and good; however, we shouldn't let our busyness separate us from God. The Bible tells us to work hard and cheerfully at all we do, just as though we were working for the Lord. Every so often during our busy day, it is only right that we should pause and take time to praise and thank the Lord for His love and goodness toward us.

My heart took delight in all my work, this was the reward for all my labor.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

God of gods, Lord of lords

Moses issues a challenge to the people of Israel. "Ask now concerning the former days which were before you, since the day that God created man on the earth, and inquire from one end of the heavens to the other. Has anything been done like this great thing, or has anything been heard like it?" (Deuteronomy 4:32).

Look at all of history. Is anything like it found? God delivered His people from bondage using miracles, signs, and wonders. We do not find anything remotely similar under all of heaven or in all recorded history. What does this mean? "The Lord, He is God; there is no other besides Him" (Deuteronomy 4:35). Moses declares, "The Lord your God is the God of gods and the Lord of lords" (Deuteronomy 10:17).

The Bible offers a similar challenge regarding the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. God entered history in human form via virgin birth (Luke 1:27, Matthew 1:21). The God-man, Jesus Christ, lived a perfect life (Hebrews 4:15 and 7:26). This same Jesus died on a cross as an atoning sacrifice and propitiation for human sins (1 John 4:10).

He was "declared the Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead" (Romans 1:4). Think about this. The Bible also maintains Jesus Christ is "King of kings and Lord of lords" (Revelation 17:14 and 19:16).

TRAVEL AND ENTERTAINMENT

Pioneer & Indian festival scheduled October 9-10

October 9-10, the Mississippi Crafts Center on the Natchez Trace Parkway at Ridgeland will host the annual Pioneer & Indian Festival.

The 1999 event culminates a week of celebrating Ridgeland's 100th anniversary and is designed to celebrate the heritage and culture of the Natchez Trace.

Incorporating crafts, food, games and performance from American-Indian, African-American and European-American traditions.

Visitors will enjoy visiting with Melvin Tingle of "Mississippi Outdoors" on ETV while he showcases his classic collection of Choctaw artifacts.

A Trace Travelers encampment with a Tomahawk Throw, a beekeeper, a flintknapper chipping arrow points, a Choctaw blowgunner and wagons pulled by Mississippi mules will all be demonstrated during the weekend event.

The anniversary celebration of ancestral arts and Trace traditions is presented by the Craftsman's Guild of Mississippi, the National Park Service, the Ridgeland Department of Recreation & Parks and the Ridgeland Tourism Commission.

For more information on the 22nd Pioneer & Indian Festival, plus travel, restaurants, lodging, shopping and area attractions, contact the Mississippi Crafts Center, (601) 856-7546 or the Ridgeland Tourism Commission at (800) 648-6078.

Susan Templin

Military artist chosen for Cruisin' the Coast print

Biloxi artist Susan Templin, a military fine artist working at Keesler Air Force Base, was chosen to create the 1999 official print for Cruisin' the Coast.

Originally from Minnesota, the 37-year-old artist has resided in Biloxi for the past 11 years. She is employed by K-MAR Industries, a contractor with Keesler, and works on murals, portraits, paintings and posters. Her air show posters with a nostalgic world War II feeling are among her best known works locally.

"I've been painting for about 20 years, and I don't find it difficult at all. The most challenging part of the Cruisin' the Coast print was painting the vintage Harley-Davidson motorcycle, but it came out great," Templin said.

The medium Templin selected was watercolor. For two weeks, she labored over the exacting details of painting the vehicles, working from several photographs taken at last year's event.

According to Templin, painting the background of the print was almost as important as reproducing the cars. "I wanted the painting to be very bright and happy," she said. "The background puts you as a driver down Hwy. 90, with the beautiful oaks, palms, azaleas and an antebellum home. On the beach, I added fun sailboats and families flying kites."

In keeping with the Coast theme, Templin created a border for the painting that includes music notes, stylized shrimp and crawfish and a magnolia bloom.

The prints will be sold at this year's Cruisin' the Coast event Oct. 7-10. Lyn Godwin, owner of Sea Cruise Marketing, works exclusively with Cruisin' the Coast as distributor of all official Cruisin' the Coast prints from 1996, 1997, 1998 and the new 1999 print. This is Godwin's second year as the producer and exclusive distributor of the official prints.

Godwin said, "This year's print is different than we've ever had, and I'm really excited with the final product. Of the three artists I was considering, Susan was clearly the most qualified. Her credentials and her portfolio of work, especially the aircraft posters that she also did as a watercolor, were fantastic."

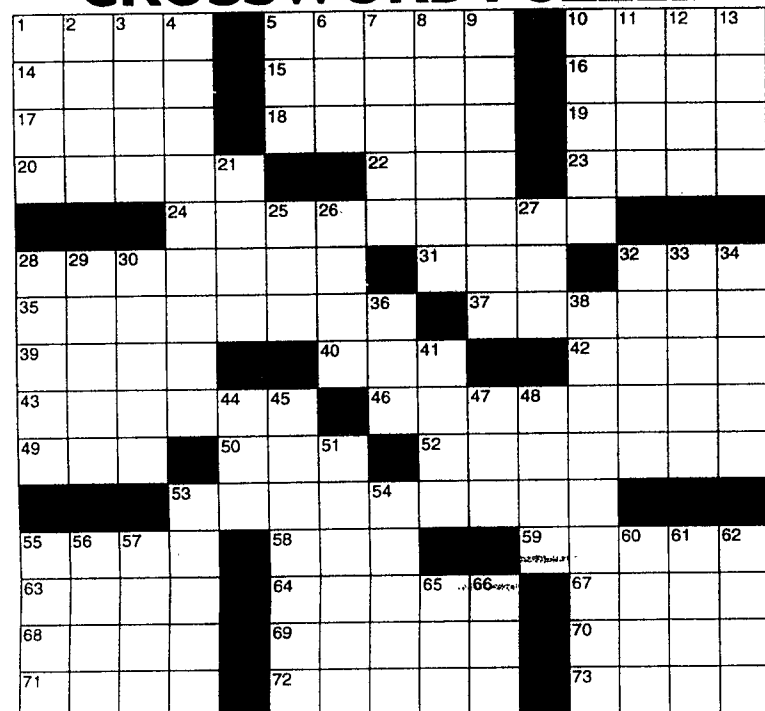

Cruisin' the Coast receives a percentage of sale from the official event prints, which are available in signed, limited-edition prints, and unsigned prints. Cost for this year's print is $15 unsigned and $25 signed. Signed prints from 1996 and 1997 are sold out, but other prints are still available.

The prints can be ordered through the internet at cruisinthecoast.com or by calling Lyn Godwin at 388-3373.
